DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 38 and 39 is objected to because of the following informalities: Steps of claim 1 must be recited. Same thing applies to claims 41 and 42.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1, 2, 5-12,15,17,21-23, 25-30 and 32-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to mathematical algorithm that will not result in practical application producing a concrete, useful, and tangible result to form the basis of statutory subject matter under 35 U.S.C. 101. Not reciting the type of intelligent-based predictive model and how this model is predicting employee information made the claims establishing results that are not concrete, useful, and tangible. Therefore, the claimed invention is not statutory.

3. Applicant's arguments filed October 21, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argument at page 10 is mute because claims in Diamond v. Chakrabarty are different in context than the applicants' claims.

Art Unit: 2121
